

Brits remember Best

Thousands of mourners of soccer star George Best turned Old Trafford stadium in London into a shrine Saturday, leaving flowers, scarves and written tributes. The 59-year-old Best, a former Manchester United and Northern Ireland player, died Friday. At games across Britain, fans observed a minute of silence before matches, and newspapers dedicated dozens of pages to Best's life.